

Dear parents, your child's learning journey is an important part of their first school year. The learning journeys should include children, parents and carers 'voices' so that all are involved in the on going observation and assessment process. Please note down anything your child says or does that shows their learning at home or out and about. If you are not sure what this might look like see some of the examples overleaf.

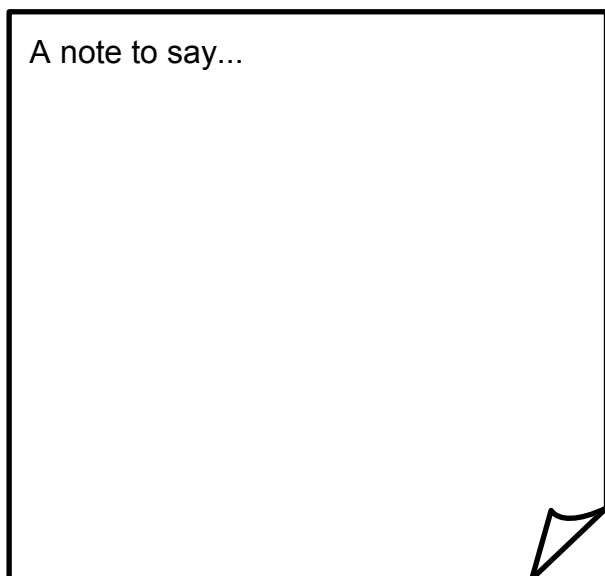

Parent observation...

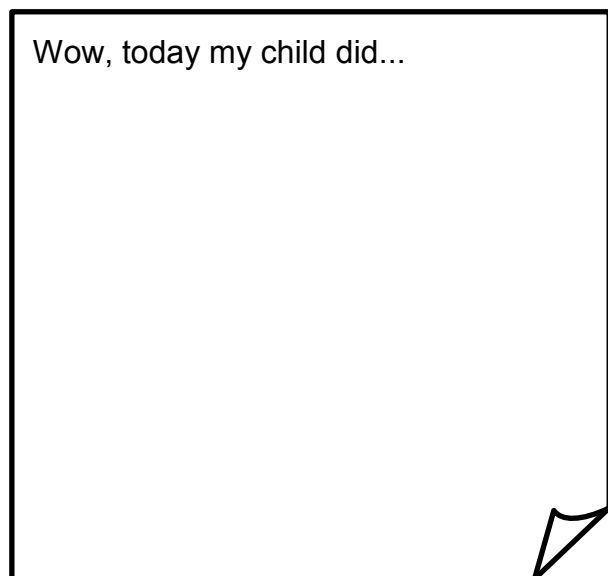

Wow, today my child said...

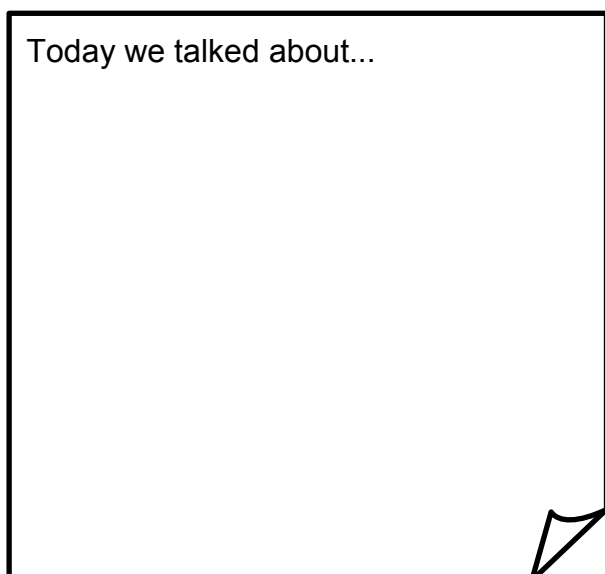

A note to say...

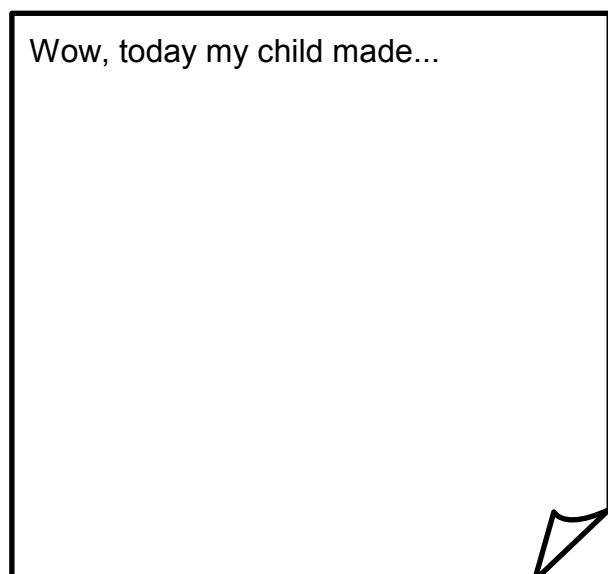

Wow, today my child did...

Today we talked about...

Wow, today my child made...

Context – Parental observation

Amber is listening to some music with me in the lounge

Observation

We were listening to classical music and Amber was picking out all the instruments she could hear and telling us which ones she could hear. She was also doing different dances depending on the music and saying what the music reminded her of 'its like fairies' or 'a spooky forest'

Lauren had a bag and asked me to guess what was in the bag.
I asked for a clue she said
"I'll sound it out for you"
P-U-P-I-T - its a puppet!!

I went to Londra I saw dinosaurs bong I went to the moose

Name: Christopher

Achievement : Christopher has been really interested in numbers all weekend. Whilst Out shopping we had to find the numbers 6 and 9. Every time Christopher spotted these numbers we had to stand still and freeze. At home Christopher enjoyed sequencing the numbers 1 - 20 independently.

9 0 0 0 0 0 0
6 + 4 = 10
